

7th Annual Historical Symposium

7th Annual Historical Symposium

PLANNING CONCEPTS OF NATIVE AMERICAN VILLAGES

PROGRAM

Moderated by Miguel A. Vazquez, AICP

Panelists

Paul Macarro
Cultural Coordinator
Pechanga Band of Luiseño Mission Indians

Patriciá García
Tribal Historic Preservation Officer
Agua Caliente Band of Cahuilla Indians

Anna Hoover
Cultural Analyst/Archaeologist
Pechanga Band of Luiseño Mission Indians

Katie Eskew
Archaeologist
Agua Caliente Band of Cahuilla Indians

Ebru Ozdil
Cultural Resources Planning Specialist
Pechanga Band of Luiseño Mission Indians

Colleen Cook
Archives Coordinator
Agua Caliente Band of Cahuilla Indians

The Inland Empire Section of the American Planning Association would like to thank the Pechanga Tribe and the Agua Caliente Tribe for their contributions to understanding California Planning History.

October 24, 2014 • Palm Desert, California

Hosted by the Coachella Valley Association of Governments

INLAND EMPIRE SECTION

INLAND EMPIRE SECTION

PROGRAM SCHEDULE

11:00 a.m. – Registration

11:15 a.m. – Welcoming Remarks & Program Introductions

Aaron Pfannenstiel, AICP, LEED AP – Section Director, Inland Empire Section of the American Planning Association

Gustavo N. González, AICP – Section Historian, Inland Empire Section of the American Planning Association

Miguel A. Vazquez, AICP – Vice President of Communications, California Planning Roundtable

11:30 a.m. – Moderated Discussion

“A Discussion on Native American Villages”

Miguel A. Vazquez, AICP – Vice President of Communications, California Planning Roundtable

Paul Macarro – Cultural Coordinator, Pechanga Band of Luiseño Mission Indians

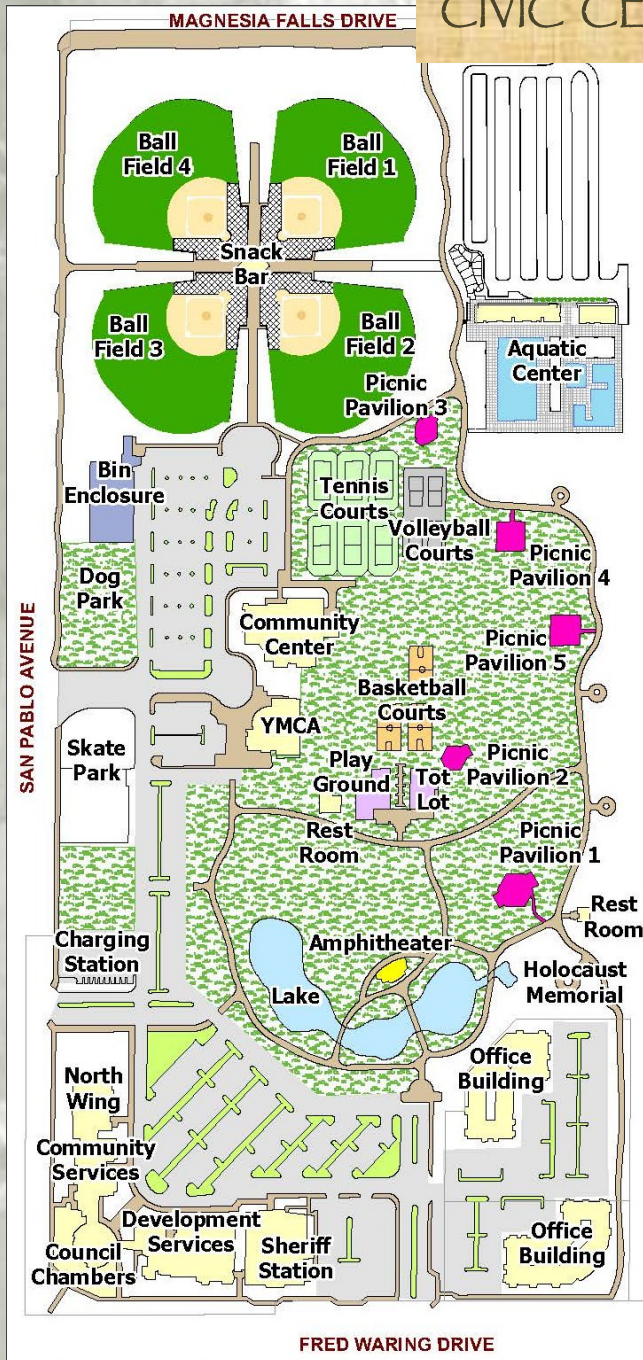

Anna Hoover – Cultural Analyst/Archaeologist, Pechanga Band of Luiseño Mission Indians

Ebru Ozdil – Cultural Resources Planning Specialist, Pechanga Band of Luiseño Mission Indians

Patricia García – Tribal Historic Preservation Officer, Agua Caliente Band of Cahuilla Indians

CIVIC CENTER PARK

Katie Eskew – Archaeologist, Agua Caliente Band of Cahuilla Indians

Colleen Cook – Archives Coordinator, Agua Caliente Band of Cahuilla Indians

Mr. Vazquez will lead our panel of experts in a candid and lively discussion on the planning concepts and land use strategies of historic Native Americans villages, the larger context of village sites and how to effectively avoid and/or mitigate impacts to existing sites.

12:00 p.m. – Lunch

Please enjoy a catered lunch during the moderated discussion.

1:00 p.m. – Guided Walking Tour of Civic Center Park

Trained docents will lead a guided walking tour of Palm Desert's Civic Center Park and its public art collection. The largest of Palm Desert's parks, the park is the City's recreational showpiece and contains a spectacular collection of public art including the Holocaust Memorial, the Peace Memorial, the Dreamer, and Desert Dessert.

BIOGRAPHIES

Miguel A. Vazquez, AICP (Moderator) - Miguel A. Vazquez, AICP is the first urban planner hired by the Riverside County Department of Public Health. His role is to strengthen the integration of planning and health through collaboration with non-traditional partners. Miguel's professional experience spans over twelve years and is Vice President of Communications for the California Planning Roundtable and former IES-APA Historian. He holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in urban studies and planning from California State University - Northridge.

Paul Macarro (Panelist) - Paul Macarro is a Pechanga Tribal Member who was trained as a Cultural Site Monitor and has served as the Pechanga Cultural Resources Department Coordinator for 10 years. He is Pechanga's delegate to the Riverside County's T-TRAC (Tribal-Traditional Cultural Resources Committee). As Coordinator, Mr. Macarro has organized outreach events and cultural presentations for the Chámmakilawish School as well as universities, museums, and historical societies.

Anna Hoover (Panelist) - Anna Hoover serves as the Cultural Resources Analyst for the Pechanga Tribe. She has been with the Tribe over 7 years and works closely with various Local, State and Federal Agencies to protect and preserve invaluable Luiseño cultural resources, sacred places and traditional landscapes. She has worked in southern California Cultural Resource Management for almost 17 years. Anna is a Registered Professional Archaeologist and fulfills the Secretary of the Interior Professional Qualifications Standards for Archaeology. She received her Master of Science from the University of California, Riverside.

Tuba Ebru Ozdil (Panelist) - Ebru Ozdil serves as the Cultural Planning Specialist for the Pechanga Tribe. Ebru works to protect the Tribe's cultural and archaeological resources from potential and actual impacts to their integrity, on and off reservation, by implementing urban and regional planning principles, zoning and subdivision map design concepts. She has over 12 years of urban and regional planning experience in both private and public sectors. Ebru received her Bachelor of Science in Urban and Regional Planning from California State Polytechnic University of Pomona.

Patricia García (Panelist) - Patricia García serves as the Tribal Historic Preservation Officer for the Agua Caliente Tribe (THPO). As the Tribe's THPO, Patricia's administrative duties include day-to-day operations, oversight of field surveys and investigations, protection, documentation and management of cultural resources within the Agua Caliente Indian Reservation and the Traditional Use Area. She also provides Native American Consultation, Section 106 review, CEQA review, NEPA review, SB18 review, and serves as a signatory participant for various Programmatic Agreements with federal agencies.

Katie Eskew (Panelist) - Katie Eskew serves as the Archaeologist for the Agua Caliente. She has worked as an archaeologist in Southern California for 13 years. She received her Master of Arts in Anthropology from California State University, Long Beach and is currently working on her Master of Science in Geographic Information Science at the University of Redlands.

Colleen Cook (Panelist) - Colleen Cook serves as the Archives Coordinator for the Agua Caliente Tribe. She handles the information needs of the Tribe and currently assists in the collection, storage, and access of supporting historical information for the Tribe. Colleen received her Bachelor of Arts in History and a Masters of Library and Information Science focusing on archives and has worked with government, private, and non-profit repositories.